Key findings

- Revenue DKK 6.519 billion; equity DKK 3.470 billion.
- Ordinary primary operating profit was DKK 151.174 million; the 48.4% EBITDA margin includes substantial other operating income.
- Group receivables account for about 64.6% of assets.
- Tenancy commitments and a cash-pool guarantee create exposures beyond the model debt figure.
- Cash-flow, security and current registry evidence require further verification.

General view

JYSK A/S has a sizeable equity buffer and grew revenue by 10.4% in FY2025. The main caveats are the large contribution of other operating income and the concentration of assets in group receivables. The saved credit rating is A; it is a historical model result. This example does not verify present-day payment defaults, available collateral or actual operating cash flow. Disclosed tenancy and group-related obligations also require attention.

Bankruptcy chart legend and interpretation

The chart illustrates bankruptcy risk based on profitability (ROA) and solvency (equity ratio). Each individual dot represents a single company in the peer reference population, while the background colours indicate the most typical risk level for companies within that area. The upper-right corner contains companies with strong profitability and solvency and therefore typically low risk (green), whereas the lower-left corner contains loss-making companies with low or negative equity ratios and high risk (red = Bottom20%).

The chart and model score come from the saved data snapshot. The model uses its own adjusted financial ratios; the report separately shows the accounting equity/assets ratio. The chart does not verify current liquidity or guarantee a future outcome.

Balance sheet overview

Balance sheet and working-capital interpretation

The FY2025 balance sheet totals DKK 4.841 billion. Group receivables increased from DKK 1.783 billion to DKK 3.125 billion and are the largest asset category. Equity is DKK 3.470 billion, or 71.7% of assets. Historical component mappings are incomplete and ambiguous detail has been omitted rather than treated as zero. The audited equity statement comprises DKK 0.500 million share capital, DKK 1,025.499 million retained earnings and DKK 2,443.890 million proposed dividend; the proposed dividend is not a treasury-share reserve.

Key analytical findings

- Other operating income contributes materially to reported profit.
- Equity divided by total assets is 71.7%; this differs from the credit model's adjusted ratio.
- The model cash-flow series is not a verified audited cash-flow statement.

CONCLUSION

Reported equity and profit are substantial. A lending assessment should distinguish ordinary trading performance, other operating income, and actual available cash.

07 — RISK DESCRIPTION

Risk description

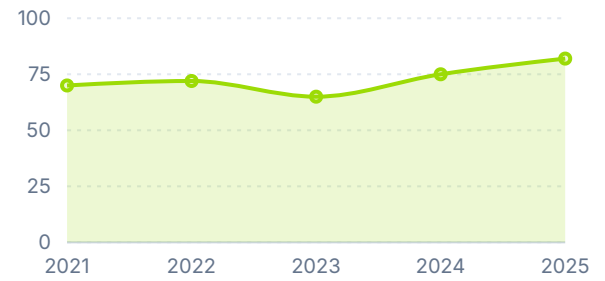

The saved Valuatum credit model assigns an A rating and score of 82 for FY2025. These are model outputs from the saved dataset, not a new credit decision or an assurance of repayment. Important exposures include dependence on group receivables, the quality of other operating income, consumer demand and inventory recovery values. Current payment-default and tax-arrears coverage has not been established in this offline sample. FY2025 note 13 also discloses DKK 2.266 billion tenancy commitments, a guarantee securing the parent's cash-pool obligations (DKK 0 drawn at year-end), and joint and several group tax liabilities. These commitments are not captured by the DKK 21.372 million model debt figure. Current balances, limits and contractual terms have not been rechecked.

Rating	A	A	A	A	A
Bankruptcy risk %	0.12 %	0.11 %	0.16 %	0.08 %	0.05 %

Key risk findings

- Group receivables represent about 64.6% of total assets.
- Disclosed tenancy commitments, cash-pool guarantee and group tax liability extend beyond the model debt measure.
- Other operating income materially increases reported profitability.
- Inventory recovery depends on saleability and market conditions.
- Current legal, payment-default and security-register checks require separate verification.

CONCLUSION

The accounts indicate a sizeable equity buffer, but neither the model rating nor missing negative records removes the need to assess cash access and group dependencies.

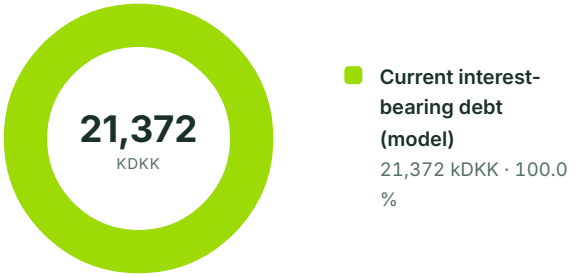

08 — REPAYMENT SOURCES

Repayment sources

EBITDA & interest-bearing debt 2021–2025 kDKK

Debt structure 2025 kDKK

Year-end cash was DKK 76.233 million. Trade receivables were DKK 58.898 million and receivables from group enterprises DKK 3.125 billion. Group receivables are claims on related parties rather than cash in the bank. The model reports DKK 3.613 billion cash flow before financing, but its formula and reconciliation to audited cash flows were not available; it is not used here to claim a repayment coverage multiple. FY2025 note 13 also discloses DKK 2.266 billion tenancy commitments, a guarantee securing the parent's cash-pool obligations (DKK 0 drawn at year-end), and joint and several group tax liabilities. These commitments are not captured by the DKK 21.372 million model debt figure. Current balances, limits and contractual terms have not been rechecked.

Key cash-flow findings

- Year-end cash: DKK 76.233 million.
- Total short-term liabilities: DKK 1.371 billion.
- FY2025 tenancy commitments: DKK 2.266 billion; a cash-pool guarantee and group tax liability are also disclosed.
- Group receivables are a material source of counterparty and liquidity dependence.
- No audited operating-cash-flow coverage multiple is asserted.

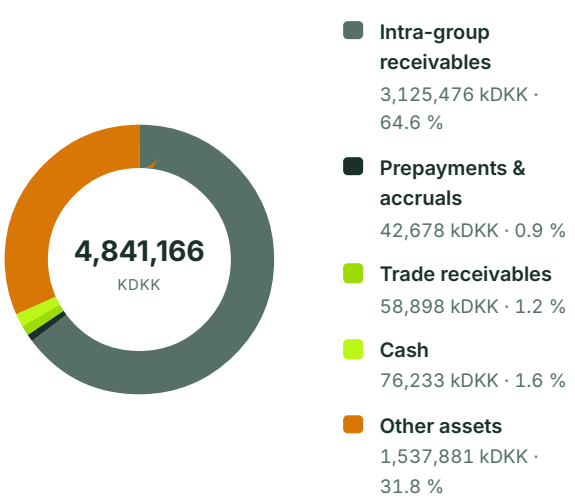

CONCLUSION

Repayment capacity depends on ordinary cash generation and the realisability of receivables. Obtain a cash-flow reconciliation and the terms of group balances before relying on them.

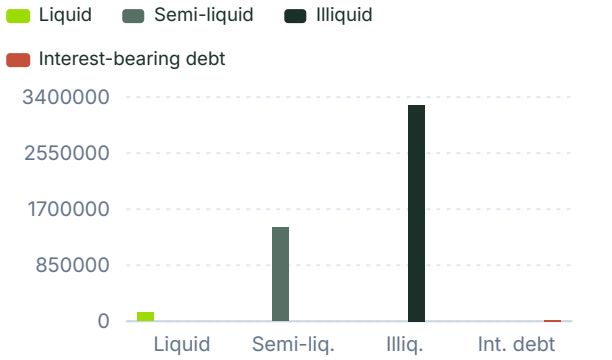

09 — COLLATERAL / ASSETS

Collateral and assets

Asset composition 2025 kDKK

Liquid vs. illiquid assets & liabilities kDKK

Total assets were DKK 4.841 billion. Group receivables were DKK 3.125 billion, inventory DKK 1.382 billion and tangible fixed assets DKK 107.730 million. The asset base is therefore concentrated in related-party claims and retail stock. Book values do not establish market value, legal availability or lender recovery. The original accounts identify DKK 18.765 million leasehold improvements and DKK 4.056 million land and buildings. Ambiguous imported property subclasses are omitted; the verified tangible-assets total is preserved.

PLEDGEABLE ASSETS

	Book value (kDKK)	Estimated pledge value (kDKK)
Trade receivables	58,898	47,118
Inventory	1,382,014	691,007
Cash & bank	76,233	76,233
Tangible assets	107,730	64,638
Intra-group receivables	3,125,476	—
Prepayments & accruals	42,678	—
TOTAL pledgeable	1,624,875	878,996

Key asset observations

- Group receivables: DKK 3.125 billion, about 64.6% of assets.
- Inventory: DKK 1.382 billion, about 28.5% of assets.
- No claim is made that the assets are unencumbered.
- Any haircut-based values are illustrative model assumptions, not verified available security.

CONCLUSION

Confirm ownership, existing security interests, recovery assumptions and counterparty quality. Low financial debt does not establish that assets are available to pledge.

10B — FRAUD RISK (OPTIONAL)

Review coverage and sources

Reported completed personal background checks: 0/7. Registered role identities matched: 7. Matching a role is not a criminal-record or payment-history check.

No consent-based criminal record, current tax/social-contribution clearance, private payment-default record, sanctions screening or beneficial-owner access was obtained.

No bank-account ownership confirmation, transaction testing or independent assessment of whistleblower effectiveness was performed.

Targeted searches covered the company name/CVR on Danish police, courts, prosecution and EU official sites. Coverage is selective, not an exhaustive adverse-media or litigation search.

Beneficial-owner details are access restricted in CVR; no restricted access was requested.

Names and statutory roles were checked directly in official CVR and cross-checked against the filed FY2025 report.

Before a material payment or contract, confirm authority to sign and the payment recipient independently. Obtain any appropriate consent-based official checks separately. Missing checks do not support a clean-record statement or a numerical overall fraud score.

The displayed equity/assets ratio is calculated as total equity divided by total assets. The credit risk model uses its own adjusted ratio.

Cash flow before financing is a model-derived figure. Its formula and reconciliation to an audited cash flow statement are unavailable; it does not establish actual operating cash flow.

Equity components omitted because the imported field mapping could not be verified (2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025). Retained earnings and proposed dividends have not been inferred.

Property subclasses omitted because the Danish import can conflate land, buildings and leasehold improvements (2024, 2025). The reported tangible-assets total is preserved; ownership and eligibility as security have not been verified.

Total equity and liabilities uses reported total assets (2021, 2022, 2023), because the source liabilities total was inconsistent. Missing components do not mean zero.

Historical balance-sheet components are incomplete (2021, 2022, 2023). Asset classifications and liability splits cannot be verified; missing items do not mean zero.

Illustrative collateral values use book-value factors of 80% for trade receivables, 50% for inventory, 100% for cash and 60% for tangible assets. These assumptions do not establish market value, recovery proceeds or available security; existing charges and agreements require separate verification.

Equity/assets is calculated from reported total equity and total assets. EBITDA is EBIT plus depreciation and includes other operating income. The credit model has separate adjusted ratios and has not been recalibrated here. Missing historical details are not zero.

Cash flow before financing remains an unverified model figure; no audited cash-flow coverage multiple is asserted. Pledge values are illustrative assumptions. No current confirmation of liens, bank-account ownership, private payment defaults or tax clearance was obtained. Historical tenancy, guarantee and group-tax exposures disclosed in FY2025 are included; current amounts remain unverified.

Before granting credit: review ordinary operating cash generation, the composition and repeatability of other operating income, related-party balances and current legal/security evidence. This sample is an initial financial assessment, not a credit decision.

Fraud review: see the dedicated coverage and sources page. Seven current role identities and the signing rule were verified against official CVR. Consent-based personal background checks, private payment records, restricted beneficial-owner data and a forensic audit were outside this free public-source review. No clean-record guarantee or numerical fraud score is given.
